CONGRESS.

Will there be a Meeting in September?

From the Washington Correspondent of the New York Herald.]

Will Congress meet for legislation in September? That is the question that now engages the public attention here more than any other, not excepting that of the Presidential succession. A great deal has been said in support of the views on both sides of the question, and, withal, the people are left in doubt as to whether Congress will meet on the day appointed, or whether the meeting will be deferred until the regular day for assembling in December. Those who have facilities for knowing the nature of the appeals from Southern reconstructionists, judging from the great numbers received by Senators and Representatives here—and the same pressure is doubtless brought to bear upon all the other members of Congress—and are fully aware of the desperate energy with which every conceivable argument that may be likely to influence the members is brought forth, are of the opinion that the urgency of the case will have the effect of bringing together a working majority on the 21st of September. Opposed to these influences is the fact that the members can scarcely afford to leave the political field just at the time when they should be exerting themselves to their utmost, not only to insure the success of Grant and Colfax, but to secure their own re-election, many of them having been renominated and not a few of them being opposed by able and popular democrats. A gentleman whose official position gives him ample opportunity to learn the views of the men who wield powerful influences upon the question under consideration states that the general opinion is that the party—meaning the republican party—cannot gain anything by continuing the session through the autumn months, as there is no visible plan by which relief can be furnished by legislation, while the party would lose heavily by the absence of the wheel speakers and organizers from their districts. It seems to be understood that by agreement of a large proportion of the radical members the advisability of calling a meeting in September has been left to the wisdom and discretion of Senator Morgan and Gen. Schenck, who have arranged to meet in this city one week before the 21st of September and take the matter into consideration. Senator Morgan, who has been here for the last few days, left last night for New York, and will not return until the 14th. His present belief is that no advantage can be derived from a meeting of Congress. Gen. Schenck is at home, looking after his re-election, and is fully convinced that he will have his hands full in trying to keep Vallandigham out of his seat in the House. The whole matter seems to be narrowed down to the two horns of a serious dilemma, and the Republicans must choose between them, either one of which is fraught with unfortunate results. If they hold a meeting of Congress in September they are in danger of losing the North; if they do not meet they are in danger of losing the South. As a matter of course they will choose the smallest of the two evils.

The Buffalo Frauds on the Postoffice Department.

Some new light was thrown upon the Buffalo Postoffice frauds to-day. These frauds have been undergoing investigation for some time past. It was at first supposed that they would amount to about $250,000, but, from what is now known, it is believed they will reach half a million. A large part of the swindling was in the contracts for blanks, twine, wrapping-paper, etc. When a quantity of these articles would be ordered from the contractors they would send only a part of the order, saying that it was all they had on hand at the time, and the remainder would be forwarded. They would then forget to send the rest, but would charge for the whole order; and by the connivance of parties in the Department, would get their account passed, and secure their pay in full.

Of these accomplices, a clerk in the Postoffice Department named Radding, a former clerk in the Sixth Auditor's office named Faremer, and Toners, the foreman of the Government printing office, were arrested to-day. They had a preliminary examination before Judge Wylie, on a requisition to transfer them to Detroit, Mich., for trial, the District Attorney at that place having been chosen to work up the affair for the purpose of lulling suspicion, as the recent act of Congress allows the Government to select the place where offenses of this class can be tried.

Early Rising.

It is an old theme, we know, but it cannot be too often reiterated, that there is no time spent so stupidly as that which inconsiderate people pass in a morning between sleeping and waking. He who is up may be at work, or amusing himself; he who is asleep is receiving the refreshment necessary to fit him for action; but the hours spent in dozing are wasted without either pleasure or profit. The sooner you leave your bed the seldomer you will be confined to it.

Candidates for Parliament.

Among the candidates for seats in the new British Parliament, several are, or have been, connected with the newspaper press, including Mr. Laws, Mr. Baines, Mr. Robuck, Mr. John Walter, the principal proprietor of the London Times; Professor Morley, of the Fortnightly Review; Mr. Edward Miall, of the Nonconformist; Mr. Tillet, editor of the Norfolk News; Mr. Jaffray, of the Birmingham Post, and Mr. Gorrie, formerly editor of a Scotch paper.

SEARCY, ARK.—By private letter, we learn that the Democrats of Searcy, Ark., are having a rousing time of it, and are sanguine of the success of the ticket. Confessing it a very sorry dose, they are for taking the "negro equality oath," in order to defeat Radicalism.

STATE FEMALE COLLEGE.

THE Fall Session of this Institution will commence on MONDAY, the 14th of September next, with a full and complete Faculty (as usual) in all the departments. In addition to the branches usually taught, arrangements have been made for a full course of lessons in PHYSICAL CULTURE according to the system of Dio Lewis. This places the State Female College, in this respect, in advance of any other school at the South, and parents, both at home and abroad, will soon come to see its beneficial effects.

The City Railroad Cars now run out to the College, and render city patronage perfectly practicable. Parents and guardians in the city will find on inquiry that they can enjoy the benefits of this superior school and make a saving—even when car-fare is added—of 25 to 33 per cent. on tuition bills. For particulars or catalogues address, C. COLLINS, au1 5w President.

The Nashville Medical College difficulty has been settled. The Banner of Saturday says the litigation and other matters of difference touching this institution, have been compromised satisfactorily to all parties, and the faculty, as advertised, will conduct the school hereafter. They are W. K. Bowling, Chas. K. Winston, J. B. Lindsley, Wm. T. Briggs, Thos. L. Madden, Jno. H. Callender, Wm. L. Niebol, Thos. B. Buchanan, Van S. Lindsley, Paul T. Eve, Thos. R. Jennings, Jos. Jones.

Ex-Governor Thomas H. Seymour died at his residence, in Hartford, Connecticut, a few days since, of typhoid fever. His age was sixty years. He was born in Hartford in 1808, was educated in the Middletown Military Academy, practiced law in his native city, was for some time Auditor, served in Congress from 1841 to 1843, went to Mexico in 1846, where he commanded the New England regiment, was a Presidential Elector in 1852, was first elected Governor in 1850, and served four terms, and was Minister to Russia under Pierce's administration.

Both Houses of the legislative body, says the Union and American of Saturday, were yesterday hammering away at the State debt and the Ku-Kluk—one a terrible reality and the other a preposterous and shadowy myth. It would seem that the hours of the day were alternately spent in contriving means to pay the over due interests on a debt already frightfully large, and means to make it unnecessarily larger. And all this flapdoodle and mischief at an expense to the tax-payers, of four dollars a day in gold for each man engaged in it, and sqaunch more for sundries. At this rate, they had better go home, and let the debt take care of itself, and "let us have peace."

CORRUPTION IN OFFICE.

At the instance of gentlemen concerned, we published in Saturday and Sunday's issue of the APPEAL, cards from Alderman PASSMORE and Alderman McDAVITT, touching the alleged bribery and corruption of the former. In his letter, answering Alderman McDAVITT's note of inquiry, Gen. FORREST distinctly charges and gives as his authority for so charging, that Mr. PASSMORE received $4000 in paving bonds from MITCHELL, the Nicholson pavement contractor, for assisting to procure the contract in which Gen. FORREST was interested with him for a short time. This, MITCHELL denies in a telegram to PASSMORE, dated at Louisville, on the 30th of May, of this year. As against the denial of Mr. PASSMORE and Mr. MITCHELL, of Louisville, we have the written statements of Aldermen McDAVITT and Gen. FORREST, old residents of Memphis, long and influentially connected with her prosperity and growth, men of veracity and high standing. In this state of the case, we think that Mr. PASSMORE (who has always borne an irreproachable character) owes it to himself to withdraw his resignation and demand an investigation of the charges by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen. He failing to doso, the Board, in justice to itself, in order to prevent the spread among the people of a belief that corruption among city officials is general, and in order to prevent an impairment of their usefulness as a body, should promptly take the necessary steps, first, refusing to accept Mr. PASSMORE's resignation, to try him under the charges made. In the name of the people, we demand that an investigation shall be had, and that the facts be made apparent, no matter who may be hurt by it.

TAXES IN TENNESSEE THIS YEAR.

The Brownlow administration is much more costly than most of our people imagine. The tax on property last year was twenty-five cents on the $100; this year it is forty cents. The gross tax on property and polls last year amounted to $1,286,835. The increase in the tax on property will bring this up to about $2,000,000. Add the tax on privileges, and the tax-payers will find that they will be called upon for something more than three millions. The Union and American asks, where does all this money go to? It requires only about a quarter of a million to pay the interest on the State debt proper, and the balance, nearly three millions, goes to support the Brownlow administration and its pensioned minions. But the State taxes, enormous as they are, are not all the people of Tennessee have to pay. Their county and municipal taxes have been largely increased to pay the salaries and expenses of the new offices that have been created for the benefit of eleemosynary Radicals. It will thus be seen that we are as heavily taxed as we can bear, and yet are not permitted a voice in the assessment of these taxes or their disbursements.

THE VERMONT ELECTION.

The Radical organs in this city, as those of the country generally, have been crowing loudly over the result of the recent election in Vermont. They "blow" lustily of an increased majority, whereas the fact is just the other way, as will be seen by the table appended giving the totals of the result of the elections in 1864, 1867 and 1868:

	Democrats.	Radicals.
1867	41,076	31,996
1868	45,552	42,600
1864	43,321	42,419

It will thus be seen that the Democrats have, without any effort, polled over 2,000 more votes in this election than in the Presidential election of 1864, while the Radicals have fallen short of their vote of that year. Besides, the proportion of the Radical to the Democratic vote in 1867 was 2 8-10; this year it is 2 7-10, showing that in the increased vote the Democrats have actually gained more than the Radicals.

CONGRESSMAN AT LARGE.

The New York Evening Post does not agree with its Radical bretheren of Tennessee, that the admission of a Congressman at large from this State is possible. It says, (and to some extent authoritatively,) referring to the nomination of SUGAR HAMILTON:

This was done on the theory that the enfranchised colored population entitles the State to an additional Representative. Several papers disprove of this action. So far from there being a probability that Tennessee will be allowed a ninth member of the House of Representatives, it is probable that as soon as the matter can be reached she will be cut down to seven, in accordance with the last constitutional amendment.

PRESTO--CHANGE!

A Charming Woman Before and After a Sea Bath.

Letter to the Cincinnati Gazette.]

I saw a wonderful transformation at the beach this morning.

A "charming" woman, who has been for many years a belle and a married flirt, and who is well known in literary circles, went down to bathe, and remained in the surf for fifteen minutes. She is considered remarkably pretty, and some of her admirers call her Ninon de l'Enclos, which pleases her, though if my memory serve, that eccentric lady was more famous for her well preserved youth than her well preserved continence.

I had often marveled at her freshness, her fine figure, her wealth of hair and perfect teeth, and had thought of what Shakspeare, says of Imogen. As she came up the beach from the bath, she passed me in full view. I was so surprised by the apparition that I kept my eyes riveted on her person. I had no notion who it was. If I had had I should, out of politeness, have been suddenly absorbed by something in an opposite direction.

The transformation of the sorceress in Bolardo from dazzling beauty to hideous deformity could hardly have been greater than that I saw before me.

The brilliant bells stood before me, old, shriveled, shrunken, repulsive in her unrelieved ugliness. The contour of her form was gone; she looked like a cotton umbrella with a broken frame, placed, after a hard shower, in a corner to dry. Her complexion resembled a palimpsest on which the old monks had written lugubrious desertations over erased tragedies of the ancients. Her hair—well, she had none that I could see, though I judged, from what resembled a horse's tail under her arm, that she had taken it off. Her beautiful teeth—I say it! I saw the place where they had been; but, for their safer keeping, she carried them in her hand.

Alas! Alas! No wild imagination of a desperate lover could rehabilitate her. She was like the South—beyond reconstruction. Talk of the rejuvinating power of the sea! Fifteen minutes in it had added fifty years to her life.

I was sorry to have been so sadly deceived; to have received such an æsthetic shock. I thought, however, I could endure it if she could, though I wondered that the new half century that had fallen on her had not crushed her into the dust—into the grave—into absolute sipbycal dissolution.

ADAS ISRAEL.

The New Jewish Temple at Louisville.

The Louisville Journal of Saturday contains seven and a half columns of a report of the dedication of the new temple of the Congregation, Adas Israel, located corner of Sixth street and Broadway, in that city. The concourse of people drawn together on the occasion was among the largest ever known in Louisville, including all the principal military and civil officers of the United States, State and Municipal Governments. The Rev. Messrs. B. H. Gotthelf and Wise (of Cincinnati) and Dr. Kleseburg, Rabbi of the Temple, officiated, assisted by the regular officers of the Congregation. In addition to the powerful organ (one of the finest in the Western country, and erected at a cost of between eight and ten thousand dollars), there was a full orchestra of choral instruments, and twenty or thirty singers from the Mendelsohn Society and different church choirs, including that of the Temple. Taken altogether the Journal says this is one of the most notable events in the history of Louisville.

As of special interest to our Israelite friends we present the following description of the magnificent edifice:

The basement contains a lecture room, sixty-four by forty feet, committee rooms and residence for janitor, and is thirteen feet six inches high in the clear. This portion of the building is on a level with the ground. The main audience-room on the second or main floor is sixty-four feet wide by one hundred and five feet deep, with transepts on each side fifteen by twenty-five feet, and circular recess in the rear containing the Ark of the Covenant. This audience room is divided into central nave and two side aisles by columns and arches. The nave is sixty feet high in the clear. The side aisles are thirty-eight feet high in the clear. The ceiling has been finished very elaborately with heavy-molded circles and deep-sunken panels, with dome in the center of the building, in which a handsome stained skylight has been introduced. The windows are all glazed, with fine stained glass. Those in the transepts and large circular windows to the front are particularly beautiful, being all full-stained glass of the most elegant design and most elaborate colors. The interior woodwork, such as pews and other finish, is all of black and white walnut. The Ark is also of black walnut, of the most elaborate design, surmounted by a dome and minarets finished in blue and gold, and the opening to the sanctuary inclosed with a handsome velvet curtain, ornamented with gold friuges, and the tablets of the law have been introduced into the front portion of the Ark in gold lettering with most excellent effect. The gallery for choir and organ is located to the front of the building, extending over the front vestibule entrances. This room is lighted by seventeen chandeliers, containing from six to twelve lights each, and about twenty brackets of two and three lights each. These gas fixtures were all made from special designs, by Fobes & Page, of Philadelphia, who intrusted the putting up of the same to Geo. Bedford & Co., of this city. They are probably, without exception, the handsomest sets of gas fixtures ever put up in this city, and equal to any in the country. On each side of the speaker's stand are standard lights containing the seven burning tapers, most elaborately finished in blue and gold. The main entrance is from Broadway, and is approached by a handsome flight of stone steps extending the entire width of the building. The extreme depth of the building is about one hundred and sixty feet, and width ninety-five feet. The height of the front from the ground to apex of front gable is one hundred feet. The main audience room will seat, with comfort, fifteen hundred people, and contains two hundred and twenty family pews, all neatly upholstered. The cost, when entirely completed, including fencing, will be about $120,000.

BANK OF TENNESSEE.

New Way to Pay Old Debts.

The following communication to the Nashville Banner is another of a million disreputatable illustrations of Radicalism in Tennessee. It will interest our taxpayers:

I am informed that the business of the Bank of Tennessee is being wound up under the supervision of the Receiver in a very unlawful and dishonest manner. I am informed that if a debtor of the bank calls there to ascertain the amount of his note and interest—suppose it is $5000—and he says he will go out and buy the amount in Tennessee bank notes, which he can get for thirty cents on the dollar, the officer in the bank tells him he need not go to that trouble; that he may just pay him the same amount in greenbacks that he will have to pay a broker, and that he can take his note. The consequence is that all the notes of the Bank of Tennessee remain outstanding, and the notes or assets belonging to the bank are shaved off at 70 per cent. discount, and the proceeds pocketed by Brownlow's officers in the bank, whilst if the notes in the bank were paid up out of the circulation of the bank, the outstanding circulation would increase in value as the amount diminished. As it is done now, the outstanding circulation will become worthless. I think this system is wrong and robbery. This statement, I am told, can be proved by application to Mr. Thomas S. Marr, or any other broker in Nashville. This same kind of settlement was made with Wm. Spence, two years since.

The bank held about one hundred thousand dollars in State bonds that Spence had left as collateral security for loaned money. After the bank failed, Spence proposed to pay what he owed in the notes of the branch, they being then worth about 40 cents on the dollar.

I am told that Mr. Watson told Spence that he could pay him $35,000 in greenbacks and take his bond, which amounted to $40,000, but he said he would compromise with him, as they wanted some greenbacks to pay off the employes of the bank, and the State officers generally.

This thing should all be exposed. I am informed that Mr. Watson told a friend of his of this last transaction.

A CITIZEN, Creditor of the Bank.

SECRETARY McCULLOCH'S POLITICS.

The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, (good authority in this case) says:

"It is now ascertained positively that Secretary McCulloch has declared himself for Seymour and Blair. An evening paper states that, in conversation with a prominent officer, a short time ago, McCulloch said he could no longer hesitate as to what course to pursue, but should give his support and whatever official patronage he could control to Seymour and Blair. At the same time he denounced, in the strongest terms, the financial plank in the Democratic platform, and said if it was carried out it would certainly bring financial disaster to the country. The only objectionable plank in the Republican platform was that relating to reconstruction; but, as this was paramount at the present time, to every thing else, he preferred uniting himself with the Democratic party with its bad financial policy, to giving his support to a party which imposed such conditions on the Southern States as was done by the Republicans in their reconstruction measures."

DICKENS has a new story about a busybody who claimed to have a personal acquaintance with every celebrity. At last a provoked cynic asked: "Did you happen to know the Siamese twins?" The omniscient but conscientious speaker at once replied: "Well, one of them I knew exceedingly well, but I am not quite sure whether I ever happened to meet the other."

GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, Sept. 6.—The Senate to-day passed a bill for relief of debtors, on the adjustment of debts on the principles of equality, by a vote of 18 to 17.

The House took up the bill authorizing the General Assembly to elect a Superintendent, Auditor and Treasurer of the State roads. A majority of the Judiciary Committee favored the bill but the minority opposed it and offered a substitute, which was adopted, that the General Assembly elect five Commissioners for the State road, whose duty it shall be to elect a Superintendent, Auditor and Treasurer. The bill will come up on Tuesday, and probably pass.

A resolution was offered, but not acted upon, declaring negroes ineligible to any and all offices of State, and that all offices now filled by negroes be declared vacant by reason of the ineligibility of the occupants, and that the Governor be directed to have such offices filled, in compliance with the code of Georgia. The Governor, Commissioners and other authorities of the State are instructed to refuse commissions to all persons of color that have been, or may be, elected to any office in this State until the Supreme Court shall decide upon the eligibility of colored persons to office.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, September 6.—Official notice is given by the State Department that the Spanish authorities of the Island of Cuba have adopted new regulations, requiring all passengers arriving at ports of that Island to present the authorities official passports properly vised by the Spanish Consul at the ports of departure, or they will not be permitted to land without complying with the special conditions, which in many cases will be found very inconvenient and in others impossible.

News has also been received by the Department of State that papers purporting to be passports issued by the Mayor of New Orleans, and vised by the Spanish Counsel, are rejected under the before mentioned regulations. Notice has also been received, that persons residing in the United States seaports, who call themselves passport agents, are in the habit of giving certificates, in which it is stated that they have applied to the department of the State for passports, and that those certificates been vised by the Spanish Consul, are presented as passports in Cuban ports, and are rejected under the same regulation before mentioned.

The public debt statement will be published Monday. It will show an increase of $10,000,000 during the month.

In the case of resistance to the U. S. Deputy Marshal in Kentucky, while serving a process of Court in an internal revenue case, the Secretary of War, it is understood, has given directions that a force of mounted men be sent to Nelson, Marion and Larned counties to enforce delivery of the process in time for the next term of the Court.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, September 6.—Counterfeit two dollar bills on the Mutual National Bank of Troy, N. Y., were put in circulation last evening.

It is estimated that the late storm caused $150,000 damage in Williamsburg, principally by flooding of cellars and damaging foundations.

The Steamship America, from Southampton 25th ult., brings the following news in addition to cable dispatches: The storm which prevailed on southwest coast of England on Saturday night, August 22d, proved very destructive to shipping. The beach at some points was literally strewn with wrecks of every description. Twenty-three lives were lost by the sinking of the ship, Taras. Another large vessel, name unknown, went down off Tornby. Light ship with all on board. Many disasters to British shipping are reported from Welsh and Irish ports. Steam communication with Island and continent was generally suspended by the gale.

The editor of the Paris Reveille has been sentenced to three months imprisonment and fine of 5000 francs for exciting hatred to Government.

The Constitutionel of the 22d says the language of the Emperor at Troges is beginning to bear fruit.

East and west the political situation is becoming more settled and generous peace has gained upper hand. Prussia feels as little desire as France to go to war, and all powers are interested in averting any disturbance. Evil of uncertainty cannot last any longer unless general security is consummated.

La France says that the appointment of a new minister to Brussels implies friendship between France and Belgium, which nothing is capable of changing. Subscriptions to shares in the French Atlantic cable had closed with complete success. Several shocks of an earthquake was felt in Hungary. A dispatch from British scientific commission was sent out to India to observe the eclipse of the sun, indicate that on the 17th some very remarkable and unexpected observations, of great value, were made.

The proposed conference of the South German States to form a military commission will not meet, and the scheme is regarded as entirely abandoned.

Special dispatch to the World, from Ottawa, says: Six Fenian head centres, from New York and Massachusetts, are here for the purpose of watching the trial of Whelan, who is suspected of complicity in the assassination of D'Arcy McGhee. It is expected that further arrests will be made to-night.

The Grecian Bend.

Mr. George Schmidt, a young German who made silhouettes at Saratoga, of ladies afflicted with the "Grecian Bend," sold quantities of them for fifty cents each. The Troy Times says:

In one corner of the grand piazza of a grand hotel, George responded to the wants of his customers; until finally the young ladies, who seem not wholly lost to a sense of the unenviable notoriety they were achieving, undertook to stop the sale. They appealed to George to suspend operations, but George was inflexible. They next complained to the landlord of the hotel, who deposed him from his position on the piazza, so George sought new quarters at a hotel "over the way." Here he did a prosperous business for a day or two, until the landlord of this house was also compelled to request his withdrawal. George complied, and the hotels generally being closed upon him, he is now unable to prosecute his enterprise.

A Troy photographer has reproduced these pictures, and they are selling by the thousand.

POLLARD.

The Boston Post Goes for Him.

Pollard, he of the "Lost Cause," frequent pistols and coffee, and matrimonial embroilments, has again "drawn the pen" to "raise the tone and character of journalism," and to "stab to the death the shallow heart of injustice." One of his first "chivalric thrusts" is aimed at the unfortunate gentleman who caused him so much uneasiness during the war—Jeff. Davis. Pollard can't endure the thought that the "Chief of the Southern Confederacy" has gone into the commission business with a London house. He finds it difficult to "credit such prostitution of historical dignity." There are hundreds of Southerners, says Mr. Pollard, who are happy in starving without condescending to the baseness of trade, and he wants to know why Mr. Davis cannot bear his poverty as "nobly." He talks about the "infamy of selling out the honors of the Confederacy," and "bargaining his historical heroism for certain benefits of trade," winding up with the imprecation: "Shame upon the man, a blistering mark upon the caitiff, curses upon the wretch who has done this paltry and flagitious thing!" Mr. Pollard's rhetoric has probably run away with him, as usual; but, stripped of all his peculiar elegances of style, there remains enough to any pistoling nephews of Mr. Davis, if he has any, to repeat the Wise affair. But, while Pollard grumbles, sensible people will be inclined to rejoice that Jeff. Davis, if report be true, contemplates becoming a respectable common-place member of society, to settle down quietly in business, and accept the situation in good faith. We dislike to suggest it, but it really seems as if Pollard would be of quite as much service to the community at large, and possibly to himself, if he would only sacrifice a little of his "historical dignity," and set up a grocery store.

A RICH farmer of Calais, Maine, aged sixty-five, recently married a second wife who is only nineteen years of age. A daughter by his first wife is forty years old, and her daughter, aged twenty, is about to be married. Thus there is a child twenty one years older than her mother, and a grandmother who is a year younger than her grand-daughter.

CITY MATTERS.

ROUGH ON ARKANSAS.—The amateur brass band went over to Arkansas, yesterday, to practice.

THANKS to Felix Cross, Esq., of the Southern Express, for late and repeated favors.

CROWDED OUT.—An article on the pamphlet on the Interpretation of Prophecy is unavoidably crowded out.

THE WEATHER was beautiful yesterday—the sun shining brightly and a soft breeze blowing from the Southwest. A few more days such as yesterday will perfect the cotton crop in this region.

"KIND WORDS" is the title of a little Sunday School paper that is published every month in Memphis by the Rev. T. B. Kingsbury, D. D. It is handsomely printed, and contains a large amount of reading matter suited for children. It is sold at the low price of 50c a year.

CANADIAN CLUB.—A meeting of our Canadian citizens will be held in a few days, for the purpose of organizing a Canadian Club, similar to the St. George's, St. Andrew's and St. Patrick's Societies. There is a large number of British colonists in this city, who will be able to form a large society. Due notice will be given of the meeting.

PERSONAL.—Capt. J. C. Hazelett, Secretary of the Metropolitan Police, left for the East on Saturday, to be gone some weeks.

Judge Drummond, of Ill., who has been quite ill at the Commercial Hotel for some days, is, we are glad to learn, rapidly convalescing, and hopes to be able to fill his appointment at Marion, next Wednesday.

THE CHURCHES yesterday were all well attended, the beautiful balmy weather drawing out everybody, young and old. At St Peter's the very reverend Father Kelly preached at 10½ o'clock to a very large audience. The music there is always exquisite, and yesterday the choir and organist surpassed even themselves. St. Lazarus was also crowded to listen to the Rev. Dr. Wheat. The music there was also very fine, one voice however being sadly missed.

PUBLIC HALL.—Thos. H. Cocke, Esq., the owner of the property on Main, between Union and Gayoso, we are glad to learn, is going to have the splendid hall, known as the Imperial Billiard Saloon, converted into a hall for public meetings, balls, etc. It is about a hundred and twenty feet long by eighty broad, and it is estimated will seat at least a thousand persons. Workmen are now at work fitting it up, and when finished will be a real ornament to the city, and fill a want long experienced.

THE HUNTSVILLE DAILY DEMOCRAT is the name of a handsome new daily paper, the first number of which came to us in the mail yesterday, and which made its appearance on Wednesday last. It is edited and published by J. Withers Clay, Esq., whom we have long known as one of the most polished and vigorous writers of North Alabama—a gentleman and a scholar, and a thoroughgoing Democrat. We wish Mr. Clay all success in his new and arduous enterprise.

A NEW INDUSTRIAL enterprise which has of late sprung up in our midst is the canning of fruits and vegetables. Hitherto the South has consumed enormous quantities of these things, and with every facility for producing them, has imported from the North and Europe almost every jar or can of fruits and vegetables that we used. With the exception of a few private families, such a thing as preserving the vegetable gifts which nature has lavished upon us, was never heard of. We are happy to state however that our people are at last waking up. Messrs. D. Cunningham & Co., the MEMPHIS PRESERVING COMPANY, are now putting up by a new process two thousand cans of peaches and quinces a day. They advertise for ten thousand bushels of peaches, and will pay the best prices for any and all fresh fruit brought to them under the Gayoso House.

THE MINSTRELS SATURDAY NIGHT. We had intended noticing the very excellent performance of Skiff & Gaylord's Minstrels at the Theater, on Saturday evening, but it is not too late yet, although a Radical paper gives them a backhander, probably because Frank Pell made some clever hits at the expense of the pets of Brownlow, and complimentary to Seymour and Blair, that elicited applause. The city had not been "billed" properly, and the agent had been remiss in cultivating the press. Hence the impression was created that it was some ephemeral concern. Such was not the case. All but the reporter of the Bulletin were agreeably disappointed. The performances throughout were excellent, and gave general satisfaction. The vocal music, harmonies and dancing, were far above the ordinary run, and when the troup returns, which will be in some six weeks, they will be welcomed for six nights' performances.

AN INSTITUTION OF HIGH CHARACTER.—So much has been said and written in favor of Life Insurance Companies on the mutual plan, that it is not deemed essential to repeat the same old story. Every business man knows that the small dealer, as well as the large trader, if he desires to prosper (and all business men do) he must insure his stock. If his means are slender he cannot afford to incur a total loss; and if they are large he can well afford to take out a policy that will prevent such a catastrophe. The same rule will apply to Life Policies, which have in so many instances proved of inestimable benefit, arising from wise foresight. When the vicissitudes to which all are subject are considered, the prudence of such investment is incontrovertible. Standing at the head of the list, is the Phœnix Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn. It is most liberal in its terms and specifications, and in some respects is governed by principles it does not share with competitors, but stands alone in its liberality. The following may be mentioned by way of illustration, as peculiar to itself: If a party insure to-day for $5000, and pays one-half cash and one-half note, (on any table) and should die to-morrow, next week, next month, or next year, the full amount of the policy is paid—$5000, and no deduction of note. If payment is made all cash, the beneficiary receives in cash the amount $5000, with dividends, cash, added. The flourishing condition of this Company renders it a most desirable institution in which to invest. The General agents, Messrs. Nourse & Mathews, may be found at all times during business hours at their office No. 16 Jefferson street, where every explanation will be given to those who may wish to insure. They are courteous gentlemen and worthy representatives of the Phœnix Mutual, which is in every respect a No. 1 institution.

TERRIBLE OUTRAGE.

Burglary, Arson and Murder.

A Band of Armed Negroes call Mr. T. A. Alexander out of his House and Shoot him.

They Plunder the House and set it afire.

Arrest of Suspected Parties.

We have to chronicle this morning one of the most diabolical and terrible affairs that has ever been perpetrated in this community, even used as we are to tragedy in all its forms, rivaling in atrocity any of the stories which come to us in almost every exchange from our unhappy bleeding State, and showing in the most vivid colors the horrors of the negro rule which is now floting in a carnival of blood from one end of the State to the other. The circumstances which we glean from various sources are as follows:

About three o'clock yesterday morning, Mr. T. A. Alexander, a peaceful, quiet gentleman, who lived on the Hernando road about three and a half miles from town, just this side of Cane Creek bridge, was aroused by hearing his name called by some one at the window of his bed room. He asked who was there and the answer was "some one who wished to see him on urgent business." Without suspecting any treachery he arose and struck a light, and as soon as he did so two shots were fired at him by the party at the window. Mrs Alexander who was in the bed, sprung out terribly frightened, and rushing to the door, threw it open, and making her escape, ran toward the house of the nearest neighbor. As soon as the door was opened, another shot was fired at Mr. Alexander, this time, five buckshots taking effect. He did not fall, however, and while trying to shut the door, four negroes armed to their teeth, sprang into the room and seized him. He struggled manfully with the miscreants, but in vain. One of them placing a pistol against his breast attempted to fire it, but in the struggle the muzzle of the weapon was knocked up and the shot did not harm the intended victim. One of the brutes struck him over the head with a gun or club, and felled him to the floor, and then with sticks and a piece of stone, beat him terribly about the head. He still struggled, however, and attempted to rise to his feet, even after the cruel punishment he had received, but as he rose a shot fired by some one from without, struck him in the heart and brought him down. He became senseless from loss of blood and pain in which condition he remained until he was found by the neighbors, whom Mrs. Alexander had roused and brought to his aid.

Meanwhile the demons after disposing of Mr. Alexander, commenced an indiscriminate plunder of the house, taking everything they could get their hands upon, and completely gutting it. Then, to cover up their devilish work, they got some straw and bedding, and piling it up on the floor, set the house afire, and made their departure, leaving Mr. Alexander senseless and helpless at the mercy of the flames.

Mrs. Alexander, after making her escape, went to the house of a neighbor whom she roused, and who, with help from others, repaired to the scene, where they found the devils gone, and affairs in the condition that we have described. Owing to the dampness of the inflamable material used by them to ignite the house, the fire had not made much headway and was easily checked. Mr. Alexander was immediately attended to, and received surgical aid, but we are informed that it is impossible for him to survive, and he is, probably, ere this, a corpse—another victim to the infamous and horrible Radical rule, which is, even now, arming and drilling the negroes, and preaching to them such deeds as would make the devil blush.

Mr. W. J. Saint, the neighbor who assisted Mr. Alexander, along with some others, from the description of one of the negroes, as given by Mrs. Alexander, arrested one Mose Crockett, brought him to the city and deposited him in the First district station house.

Col. Beaumont was notified of the affair at an early hour, and very promptly went out to the scene, taking a force along with him. Up to writing, Crockett is the only one arrested, but Col. Beaumont will, no doubt, have the balance of them before many hours roll over their fiendish heads. A vigilance committee should then be allowed to manipulate them for a few minutes.

MORE BLOOD.

Another Outrage by Armed Negroes.

Bravery of a Woman---She is Attacked by Robbers and Stabs one, Probably Mortally.

As a comparison to the outrage upon Mr. Alexander, just detailed, we have another and a similar one, perpetrated by a band of black miscreants; but, though their intentions were quite as infamous as in that case, they did not succeed so well, either in obtaining plunder or avoiding detection and punishment—all of them having been captured, and one of them stabbed so severely that there is a fair chance of his paying the penalty of his violence and lawlessness with his life.

The following are the facts as nearly as we could learn them from the wounded man, and officers Shiffler and Brandy who made the arrests:

About nine o'clock Saturday night a party consisting of four armed negroes went to the house of Mrs. Viney Jones on President's Island and obtaining admission by threats, commenced an indiscriminate plunder of everything that they could lay their hands upon. Mrs. Jones commenced to scream, and one of the party of burglars, afraid, lest her screams should bring the neighbors down upon them, attempted to seize hold of her to stop her mouth. She had armed herself, however, with a sharp case knife, and when the robber reached for her, she drove the knife into his groin, penetrating the kidneys and making a terrible wound. By this time the fears of the robbers were realized; her cries had alarmed some negroes living close by, came to her assistance, and surrounding the house captured the whole party, whom they tied, put in a boat, and brought over to Fort Pickering. Here they found officers Shiffer and Brandy, to whom they turned over their prisoners and the wounded man. The officers brought them to the Second district station-house and looked them up. A surgeon was called, who dressed the injuries of the wounded man, and at last accounts he was doing well.

The names of the four ferocious scoundrels were Edwin Hall, Peter Ford, Thos. Boone and Cæsar Stinson, the latter being the wounded man. They will have a preliminary examination to-day.

HOW TO MARRY AND ENJOY LIFE AS YOU GO ALONG.—Recently it has become a habit among young men to excuse themselves for not marrying, under the plea that in these expensive times they could barely get a living, and so if taken away, nothing would be left for the maintenance of their families. Unable to get much ahead in the world, they refuse to assume additional obligations, and so unduly postpone marriage. And just here we see an illustration of the beautiful workings of life assurance. For this removes depressing apprehensions, and allows of matrimonial engagements without waiting to gather property. If a young man, believing that "marriage is honorable in all," would assume its engagements, all that he has to do is to go to Messrs. McMahon & Otis, the agents of the ST. LOUIS MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, and procure a handsome life policy, in favor of his bride, and enjoy, without anxiety, the benefits of domestic happiness. So, all you youths, ambitious of connubial felicity, pitch in. sep6 2t

CITY FINANCES.

A Communication from Alderman Renner.

Messrs. Editors: The discussion in regard to the late issue of city bonds in the last meeting of the Board of Aldermen having led, unnecessarily, to the disagreeable result of personal ill-feeling between some of the Aldermen, and the probable resignation of one of the most efficient members of that Board, I feel induced, having taken an active part in that discussion, to state the motives which prompted me to support the resolution of the Alderman from the Eighth Ward, Mr. Passmore, and if your space will allow it, I ask, respectfully, the use of your columns.

As I had been informed that the million dollars of bonds allowed by the voters of the city, last spring, were well-nigh absorbed, I had, on last Tuesday's meeting, a resolution passed requesting the Chairman of the Finance Committee to report: 1st, the uses to which these bonds had been issued. 2d, the rates at which they had been negotiated. 3d, the effect this operation had had upon the financial condition of the city; and 4th, whether it was desirable to have more bonds issued. On Wednesday morning it was freely talked about among official circles, that only 150 bonds were left in the hands of the Mayor—and that these were retained for certain purposes, and that some 150 bonds more could profitably be employed the same way—but that no cash was as yet flowing into the City Treasury and was not likely to do so for some time to come; and hence there would be no money to defray the current expenses of the city, nor any means to raise funds for that purpose. On coming to the Exchange Hall I saw the resolution of the Alderman of the Eighth Ward, calling for the inhibition of the further issuance of bonds, with a preamble averring that a portion of the bonds had been diverted into channels contrary to the ordinance which provided for their use. Though the preambie seemed to me at the time a little too severe in its wording, yet, on reflection, I could not say that its statements were entirely unfounded, as the ordinance provided that the bonds should be used to fund the debt of the city, whilst I was aware that some of the funds had been used to take up former bonds and thus renew the debt that was already funded, others to raise money to pay the July interest, instead of funding them, others to raise money for the current expenses of the city government. All objects, which though either desirable or necessary, were not contemplated by the letter of the ordinance, as I understand it; and therefore if the mover of that resolution insisted on the preamble, the only thing that might be said against it was, that by implication, and by implication alone, it was reflecting either on the character of the policy of the Chairman of the Finance Committee. This implication as to character never entered my mind, nor did I think it could possibly enter the minds of the other Aldermen.

The policy of the Financial Committee seemed to me, however, to come clearly within the proper scope of aldermanic discussion, and I never expected any bitter feelings on that score. The resolution proper, calling for the reservation of the residue of the bonds for the current expenses of the city, attracted, therefore, chiefly my attention, and this met my unqualified approval, and as it is now, for the following reasons: As stated before, and as is publicly known, the bonds were issued to take up the floating debt, consisting of scrip, ledger balances, past due coupons—in short all such certificates of indebtedness which we were obliged to receive in payment of taxes, in order that we might, as speedily as possible, resume a cash basis for the financial operations of the city, and have funds for the city expenses.

At the time of the passing of the Ordinance, that kind of indebtedness amounted to nearly one and a half millions of dollars. As often spoken about among the Aldermen, we thought it would take some considerable time before a million bonds would be absorbed, and the taxes which would meanwhile be paid in, together with the funding operation, were considered at least, or nearly sufficient to remove papers of indebtedness, and compel cash payment of taxes, the more so, as no new scrip of whatever kind was issued. However, this result, now that the bonds have been almost entirely issued, has not been obtained—cash is not coming in yet, and a large amount of paper is yet standing out against us; and solely, I believe, because the bonds have not been consistently used for one purpose alone, that is to remove the floating debt. To fund the debt, and at the same time to furnish collaterals for nearly $75,000 of city notes, at the rate of forty and fifty cents on the dollar, the amount of one million was certainly too small, and it might have been known beforehand. So far, I take the liberty to criticise the policy of the Finance Committee, and no farther; and, if that Committee should say: "Well, you can talk very wisely, now that the soup is split," I shall say again, you might have known that for these two purposes the bonds were neither intended, nor could they reach. Finding ourselves in this situation, and seeing no other way to keep up the expenditures of the city, I thought it was wise to hold on to the balance of the bonds for collaterals to raise the money wherewith to pay the employes of the city, as well as other expenses, through the coming winter, until the taxes have entirely reduced the paper against us, which has been lessened by $400,000 by the bonds.

This, Mr. Editor, whether right or wrong, I think I had a right to advocate. My soul thought of no incrimination. I may differ with these gentlemen of the Board, as far as the policy of our finances is concerned; with regard to the confidence which ought to be placed in the Finance Committee, there can be no possible difference.

All I wanted, and all I think Mr. Passmore wanted, was to provide means for the winter's expenses. If the Committee does that without too heavy sacrifices, they will have, in that manner, best refuted our argument.

POLICE ITEMS.

Matters in police circles, which have for some weeks been very quiet, began to look a little more lively yesterday and the day before. No less than thirty-two arrests were made in the second district yesterday.

The lower district police made a raid on houses of ill-fame and bagnios on Saturday night and captured about twenty unfortunates. Several gay lotharios were compelled to beat hasty retreats in not very dignified costumes. "Such a getting down stairs you never did see."

Jane Craft, a kinky headed damsel of sweet sixteen broke into M. A. Prager's residence and gobbled ten dollars and some clothing yesterday morning. She was caught in the act, and officer Crupper took her to the station house and gave her dry lodgings.

TRADE AND COMMERCE OF MEMPHIS LAST YEAR.

Synopsis of Statement of Chamber of Commerce.

Figures and Facts for Readers of the Appeal.

We have been permitted to look over the proofsheets of the forthcoming report of the "Annual Statement of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce," which is now in the hands of the printer, and will be ready for distribution at the next meeting of the Chamber. In it we find a number of interesting statistics, from which we are permitted to make the following extracts:

COTTON.

We notice that the total receipts of cotton have been 253,207 bales, and the total exports were 254,240, with a stock on hand of 47 bales against 1080 on the first of September last. The shipments to New Orleans were 84,000 bales, the remainder being shipped Northward, as follows: 9063 bales via M. & C. R. R.; 44,191 via M. & O. R. R.; and the remainder by steamer. Of the receipts, 72,648 bales came by the M. & C. R. R.; 30,268 by the M. & T. R. R.; 34,609 by the M. & O. R. R.; 79,222 by river and 36,460 by wagons. The range of prices, with their fluctuations, are noted, and are interesting to those engaged in the cotton trade.

The superiority of Memphis as a cotton market is shown by the fact that much of our cotton is sought and purchased by the Northern spinners, who find lists purchased here more desirable than are generally found in other markets, while our central position, by river and rail, renders our market easy of access for both the purchaser and planter. In the fluctuations of price during the past season our sales are reported as higher than either New York or New Orleans, on several occasions. Our receipts show a marked increase, and were nearly half as much as the total received at New Orleans; almost equal to Mobile, and far ahead of any other inland city in the country.

The aggregate receipts for the United States for the year ending September 1, foot up 2,192,069 bales against 1,902,431 last year, showing an excess the past season of 289,638. About 700,000 bales were consumed in this country, the remainder being sent abroad. The present visible supply, counting stock on hand in Liverpool, London, United States, and what is afloat, is 1,869,377 bales against 1,528,440 last year. Of this amount 240,000 bales is American. Up to the 11th of July there had been shipped from Bombay, 929,495 bales against 1,019,248 last year. The shipments from Egypt have been 289,426 bales.

WHEAT.

Among the items of imports the receipts of wheat show the number of sacks to have been 5653, against 2479 last year. In 1861-2 we received 56,022 sacks. Of the receipts the past year the major portion was grown in this vicinity, and sent here for sale. A considerable quantity has been consumed by our own mills, which are manufacturing flour equal to any that can be imported, and is largely sought for by our merchants as well as consumers.

CORN.

Receipts of corn for the year show an immense falling off, and only amounts to 130,297 sacks, against 654,053 the previous year, and 379,052 in 1861. The highest price of the commercial year was in October last, when the figure was $1 30 per bushel. In February prices were seventy-five cents per bushel, and the lowest during the season. For some time past the consumption has been chiefly local, and less than 2000 sacks per month.

CORNMEAL.

Of corn meal the receipts were during the year 35,980 barrels, against 26,546 last year, and 1063 in 1861-2. This is exclusive of the amount ground here which would largely increase the figures. The increase is accounted for by the fact that our planters preferred using their home corn for stock-feed, and purchasing meal to feed themselves. Prices have ranged during the year, between $4 50 and $6 50 per barrel. The corn crop of this year is thought to be larger than any on record, and there will be no occasion for future imports except for local demand.

OATS.

Receipts of oats during the year, footed up 61,232 sacks against 99,434 in 1867. The prices have ranged between 55 and 90c per bushel.

FLOUR.

Of flour, 141,571 bbls. were received during the year, against 147,090 the year before, and 150,000 in 1861. This is exclusive of home manufactures, which have been considerable. Prices have been fluctuating, the lowest rate, in February last, being several dollars lower than at the opening of the year.

PORK.

The number of barrels of pork received were 119,084, against 24,320 in 1867. There were also received 10,009 casks, 6290 tierces and 5498 bulk pieces of bacon. The lowest prices were in January last, when clear sides were worth 13c. per pound. The receipts of lard show a small difference compared with the previous year.

SUGAR.

Importations of sugar were little more than a third of the receipts of 1861. The market shows slight fluctuations and is now two or three cents under the prices of the same time last season. Receipts were 2812 hogsheads, 7369 barrels, and 323 boxes.

COFFEE.

The importation of coffee figures up 14,626 sacks and is less than one-half the imports of 1861.

COAL.

In the article of coal we notice that about 2,000 000 bushels are consumed here, 1,300,000 of which is used on the river and the remainder in the city. The highest prices were $1 40 per barrel during the suspension of navigation last winter. The lowest figure was at the end of August, being 90c.

CATTLE.

The cattle market has shown wide fluctuations, and has been affected by the receipts of droves from Texas. Prices last winter were as high as 12½ cents gross, and recently have been as low as two cents. Texas cattle are now a drug at $18 and $20 per head. About 100 head of beeves per week are consumed within the city.

DRY GOODS.

In relation to the dry goods, boot and shoe, hat and cap, furniture and other trades, the report shows that an unprofitable business has been done. The stocks have recently been replenished in expectation of an active fall trade, and merchants are now ready to do all the business that may offer at prices competing with neighboring cities.

BANKING CAPITAL.

The total capital of our banking institutions, as taken from the U. S. Assessor's books, is only $1,624,300, and combined, is less than the capital employed by a single bank before the war. At that time one bank controlled a combined capital of more than $15,000,000.

HOMY MANUFACTURES.

The products of our home manufactures is shown to have been less than half a million of dollars during the past year. In 1861 they were more than three millions.

STATE DEBT.

In relation to the public debt of the State, as shown by the reports of Controller Blackburn, they foot up a total of nearly $39,000,000, and the entire revenue of the year will be but little more than $2,000,000—more than $1,000,000 less than the sum necessary to pay the interest on the public debt and the necessary expenses of the State Government. The debt has increased more than twenty millions since the close of the war. In 1861 the per centage of taxation was seven cents on the hundred dollars, while at this time it is sixty cents.

RAILROADS.

In relation to our railroads and steamboat lines it is shown that but two of the latter did a profitable business last season. The condition of each railroad is mentioned, also the contemplated lines, together with a complete statement of the different lines of steamers that is expected to run to and from Memphis during the coming season.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

A synopsis of the proceedings of the Chamber of Commerce is given, as also a graphic history of that body from the time of its first organization, with an account of the influence it exercises in the interest of our commercial affairs. The statement has been prepared with much care, by W. L. Leask, Esq., of our city, and is as complete as could have been compiled under the circumstances. It contains information of much value to every merchant, and will be a good record for future reference.

UNIVERSITY IN MARYLAND.

We publish this morning the advertisement of the medical department of this time-honored and excellent institution, which commences its sixty-first annual session, on the nineteenth day of October. This University is one of the best in our country, and possesses a combination of advantages that few others can boast of. Baltimore, where it is situated, is a large city, numbering over three hundred thousand inhabitants, furnishing all the material necessary for a medical school. The clinical department is an infirmary attached to the buildings, where there are always a great variety of forms and of diseases always under treatment. The faculty is composed of the oldest, most eminent and experienced physician and surgeon in the State of Maryland. It is said by those who are capable of judging, that as a body, if not the most able, they are certainly second to none in the United States. In point of age the college ranks them in our county. In addition to what we have said as to the merits of the school we will add that the tone and sentiment of the Institution is strongly Southern. The professors are all intensely Southern, and for this reason were distranchised during the war. Professors Aiken, McSherry and Smith, all sent sons into the Confederate army at the breaking out of the war, and both Smith and Johnston went themselves—the latter having been dangerously wounded by a piece of shell while dressing the wound of a soldier on the battle-field.

We cordially recommend this Institution to our young friends who propose studying medicine. There is no reason why Southern youths should continue to go North to study medicine or surgery, when we have in the South such colleges as the Maryland University. Professor Miltenberger, the Dean, at Baltimore, will furnish any further information which may be required.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, MEMPHIS, September 5, 1868.

The money market was quiet, with no new features of interest, and nothing, in fact, worthy of note, outside of a better demand for Northern exchange, which made it necessary for some of the banks to remit currency, although, as a rule, the banks were well supplied. Business in the general market was not as brisk as usual at the close of the week, which may be ascribed to the interest just now centering in the crops. Exchange rates are firm, as follows

	Buying.	Selling.
New York	par to ¼ prem.	¼ prem.
New Orleans	par	"
St. Louis	par	½ "
Cincinnati	par	½ "
Louisville	par	½ "
New Orleans	¼ dis.	par ¼ "

Gold was firmer in New York, opening at 144¼, and closing at 144¾, an advance of ¾ on the closing rate of yesterday. Here the stereotyped dullness prevailed. Brokers bought at 142@143, and a very little was sold at 144.

Police scrip was scarce, and in fair demand for sale to license payers.

County scrip was scarce, with dealers in the market at 55, and selling at 55@58. It is wanted to supply tax-payers.

City scrip was firm at 80 with dealers, although there was little demand of consequence. Dealers have ample supplies, and are not in the market.

There were no transactions in stocks or bonds, or, at least, none were reported.

Hon. J. Hubley Ashton, Acting Attorney-General, has prepared an opinion, at the request of Secretary McCullough, on the new law requiring the recommendation of the Attorney-General in all compromises of internal revenue suits. That part of the law on which the opinion is called for, enacts that in all cases arising under the Internal Revenue laws, where, instead of commencing or proceeding with a suit in court, it may appear to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to be for the interest of the United States to compromise the same, he is empowered and authorized to make such compromise, with the advice and consent of the Secretary of the Treasury; and in every case where a compromise is made, there shall be placed on file, in the office of the Commissioner, the opinion of the Solicitor of Internal Revenue, or officer acting as such, with his reasons therefor, together with a statement of the amount of tax assessed, the amount of additional tax or penalty, or tax imposed by law in consequence of neglect or delinquency of the person against whom the tax is assessed and the amount actually paid, in accordance with the terms of compromise; but no such compromise shall be made of any case after suit or proceedings in court has been commenced, except upon recommendation also of the Attorney-General: Provided, That it shall be lawful for the court, at any stage of such suit or criminal proceedings, to continue the same, for good cause shown, on motion of the District Attorney.

NEW COUNTERFEITS IN CIRCULATION.—A number of new counterfeits on National Banks have been put in circulation, but as yet, only a few have made their appearance in this part. The following are announced: Counterfeit 10's on the Saratoga County National Bank, Waterford; 10's on the First National Bank of Red Hook, N. Y., 20's raised from 3's on the Consolidation National Bank of Philadelphia, Pa.; 5's on the First National Bank of Louisville, Ky.; 10's raised to 50's on the Tioga National Bank, Owego, N. HOPS.—The Cooperstown Journal says:

The reports generally are favorable to a fair yield in this county and State. We estimate the crop in New York at about 50,000 bales; Wisconsin expects to have 45,000 bales; other Western States will furnish at least 15,000 bales; and the Eastern and Southern States 15,000 more—making a total of 125,000 bales. The home demand, with a large barley crop, may call for 95,000—leaving a surplus of 30,000 bales. Shall we have a foreign demand for this surplus? Recent advices lead to the expectation that there will be an export demand, though not at high prices. This year, as last, 15 cts will be no early demand for other than first sort hops; and with plenty of old hops on their disposal, brewers will not pay high prices for the best of new hops. Little is yet said about prices for the maturing crop, though dealers in this county are expecting to buy at, about 25@30c to fill orders.

TOBACCO CROP.—The Elmira Gazette says:

The tobacco crop this season was never better in Chemung county. Our farmers have the art of its cultivation reduced down to a fine thing. The town of Southport, in particular, has some splendid fields of the "weed," which is now being cut, with every probability of securing the whole crop for the coming harvest. The crop is good at the East, particularly in the valley of the Connecticut river, where it is largely cultivated.

IN CONSEQUENCE OF THE FAVORABLE prospects of a bountiful season, by which there must necessarily insure

A LARGE TRADE

We have concluded arrangements through which we propose to offer inducements for all

BUYERS TO PURCHASE HERE

1st—All Imported Goods we will import Direct, or buy from the Importer's Agents.

All Domestic Goods we will buy direct from the Manufacturers.

Shoes we will have made to order; in fact, we will procure all our Goods FROM FIRST HANDS, thereby saving the jobber's profits.

3d—We shall continue to SELL ONLY FOR CASH, which enables us to sell at a closer profit than those selling on time.

4th—We will continually have our buyers in the East watching the market and attending the Trade Auction Sales, buying Bargains, which we will again Sell as Bargains.

Through these advantages, it must be apparent to all that we will be able to COMPETE WITH ANY MARKET ON THIS CONTINENT.

☞ People should not listen to the base fabrications of Cincinnati, Louisville and St. Louis drummers, that Memphis cannot compete with their markets.

MEMPHIS CAN NOW,
AND WILL,

WE SHALL CONTINUE OUR
CLOAK MANUFACTORY
Under the management of a No. 1 CLOAK CUTTER, making up the LATEST PARISIAN STYLES, whereby we will save at least 25 per cent. and can thereby

EVERY DEPARTMENT
—WILL—
BE COMPLETE.

Thankful to our customers for past patronage, we hope to keep a continuance of same, and through the GRAND PREPARATIONS WE HAVE MADE, the large increase of Stock and the close figure s we shall sell at, we hope for a large increase of our custom.

PATENT MEDICINES.
WIGGS'
BUCKEYE SALVE
—FOR THE—
CURE OF EVERY FORM
—OF—
HEMORRHOIDS OR PILES
WHETHER OF LONG STANDING OR RECENT ORIGIN, internal or external, whether attended with Prolapsus, Hemorrhage or obstruction, and all by External Application,
No internal adjuvants being required in any case, only to regulate the bowels, if constipated, or in Diarrhœa and Dysentery.
The PILES, while astonishingly prevalent in their various forms amongst all classes of both sexes, are at the same time, the most distressing, frequently dangerous, and hitherto most difficult of cure.
Persons who suffer any length of time with the Piles generally try everything they can learn of purporting to cure the disease, yet realize no permanent advantage therefrom. They have been told professionally, perhaps, there was "no permanent cure for Piles," and consequently have despaired of any future cessation from pain and suffering.
To all such a SPECIFIC is offered for their relief. The
BUCKEYE SALVE
Is a strictly scientific combination of well known remedial agents, and the proprietors have no hesitation in saying the BUCKEYE SALVE is the
ONLY INFALLIBLE SPECIFIC
Ever discovered for that disease, and which cures by outward application only, and that in time to come, as in the past, it will stand the test of trial without a failure, to perform all the proprietors claim for it, if the directions are attended to.
A large number of gentlemen throughout the country of high character and influence have voluntarily attested to its efficacy in their own cases, not from hearsay, and whose certificates may be seen by reference to the publications.
The proprietors will forward to any address one bottle, postpaid, on receipt of the retail price, $1 00 per bottle.
A Liberal Discount to Druggists and Dealers in Medicine.
